If “a picture is worth a thousand words,” the photo shown here speaks volumes. It shows an interesting gathering of elitists that took place in 2001 at the awarding of the Carnegie medal of philanthropy. Following are some of the attendees shown:

Richard Parsons: Close Rockefeller associate, member of the Rockefeller Foundation board of trustees, including board chair, co-chair of the Advisory Board of the Smithsonian National Museum of African American History and Culture (as in 1619 Project). Given what is known about the Rockefellers and those who run in their circles, it's not likely possible that you could blindfold yourself and sling a cat at a Rockefeller family reunion and not strike a Malthusian.

David McCullough: Pulitzer Prize winning historian, Trump hater as well as member of the powerful, Malthusian secret society, Skull & Bones. If you read that sentence carefully, you may have noticed that it contains another tie to the 1619 Project. Yes. In addition to the Smithsonian and the New York Times, the Pulitzer organization is also closely bound to this “project.” Apparently, in order to win a Pulitzer Prize, you simply have to despise America and everything it stands (or once stood) for. As history will show, the Smithsonian and Skull and Bones have certainly done their share of damage to this nation of ours. In fact, not only did these organizations contribute to the existence of the Malthusian American eugenics movement, they also collaborated on other projects as well, including the establishment in 1884 of the American Historical Association (AHA) which has acted as the “gate” through which America's history is vetted. Indeed, in 1889 when the AHA was incorporated, its articles of incorporation stipulated that this new association would report annually to the Secretary of the Smithsonian on all matters of historical importance... So, if you've ever wondered why the Smithsonian, of all organizations, is found on the periphery of the absurd 1619 Project and is working in support of it, the reason is quite simple: Who better to be involved in such a project to re-write America's history than the official historical revisionists themselves?! Now, lest this hypothesis come across to anyone as “preposterous,” let them explain to us the Smithsonian's collaborating with a secret society to create an organization that clearly has a powerful influence on the recording of our official history. After all, since when is secrecy compatible with the accurate recording of history? Ans: Never.

David Rockefeller: Again, as with many members of the Rockefeller family, David is a known Malthusian and one who has delivered speeches on the very topic of population control.

Bill Gates Sr.: Father of former Microsoft head, Bill Gates as well as director of the (Malthusian) Planned Parenthood. Of course, many are now aware of Jr.'s involvement in the present Malthusian pseudo-pandemic.

Ted Turner: Radical environmentalist/Malthusian who once stated that “a total population of 250-300 million people, a 95% decline from present levels, would be ideal.” Turner's inclusion here represents radical environmentalism's contributions to the overall Malthusian conspiracy and although this conspiracy's origins pre-date the nineteenth century, one of its early major accomplishments was the Malthusian conservation movement. Of course, the modern environmental movement—including its climate hysteria PsyOp—is itself rooted in the conservation movement. Furthermore, despite mainstream historians' utterances to the contrary, the American eugenics movement (which will be further discussed in a moment) was essentially an offshoot of the conservation movement. Keep that in mind.

Irene Diamond: Philanthropist whose money has endowed AIDS research. Since the advent of the Internet, much information has come forward as evidence that the AIDS epidemic was a man-made phenomenon (read on for more).

Mamphela Ramphela: Co-president of the (Malthusian) Club of Rome, a managing director of the World Bank...

George Soros: Globalist, anti-nationalist who's support for every conceivable leftist cause imaginable—including the effective take-down of borders in all Western nations—secures his seat on the Malthusian bus.

Anthony Fauci: aka “Dr. Death,” now tied to multiple fake epidemics/pandemics, implicated by many in AIDS deaths and now coronavirus (COVID-19) deaths. Based on the company he keeps just according to the attached photo, you guessed it—he's another Malthusian! We now know that the HIV/AIDS “epidemic” was another of Fauci's frauds.<sup>1</sup> Incidentally, COVID-19 and AIDS are just two examples of disease conditions that evidence suggests have been weaponized with the goal being to impact the health of society as well as lower populations. Others include heart disease, cancer, some mental health conditions and even diabetes. Their weaponization follows an iatrogenic model in which the treatment itself actually contributes to the disease...

That the seven philanthropists seen in the photo are being awarded the Carnegie Medal is itself yet another Malthusian connection. Cold Spring Harbor, located on Long Island N.Y., was the operational epicenter of the American eugenics movement (which was clearly a Malthusian movement in disguise). Such was the location chosen for Charles Davenport's eugenics record office (ERO) and he had served as both director of it as well as Carnegie's Station for Experimental Evolution which was located on the adjacent property. Plus, in 1917 when Davenport's ERO was no longer being funded by the Harriman family—the two sons of which were both members of Skull & Bones—it was Carnegie's Institution of Washington that kept the lights on... Another related piece of trivia here is that when the Carnegie Institution of Washington was founded, roughly ten of its earliest Trustees were members of Skull & Bones and contrary to what Edwin Black, author of War Against the Weak would have us believe, even it's first President (and I believe, incorporator) was none other than Skull & Bones member Daniel Coit Gilman!

Are we starting to see a pattern here? Yep! These people seen in the photo, some of whom were being awarded for their “humanitarian” philanthropy on the day that this photo was shot (check out the URL on the image itself<sup>2</sup>) are a bunch of Malthusians who would like nothing better than for all of us to drop dead!

Incidentally, this photo represents an absurd irony in that, according to the referenced webpage, we're told that “Ted Turner was selected for his leadership in the philanthropic arena, particularly with his historic $1 billion gift to the United Nations, for his passionate stewardship of the environment and for the Nuclear Threat Initiative to reduce the global threat posed by nuclear and biological weapons.” So Ted Turner is concerned about biological weapons, is he? That's interesting considering that he's standing directly behind the very man that we now all recognize as a facilitator of biological weapons! Ya really can't make this stuff up!
